DR. D. O. WEEKS CLAIMED AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Succumbs at City Hospital to Cancer of Liver and Stomach

PRACTICED 35 YEARS

First Office in This City; Constantly Active in Medical Societies

Dr. Dana D. Weeks, 61, former president and acting secretary of the Marion County Medical Association,
died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon
at Marion City Hospital of cancer of the liver and stomach. He had been ill for the past three years. He was removed to the hospital from Hotel Harding where he had been residing Sunday night.

Born in Caledonia, Dr. Weeks was born in Caledonia, Dec. 12, 1866, and was the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Weeks, of this city. He had practiced medicine in this city for the past 35 years, and was actively interested in the medical societies of the county and state. Dr.
Weeks had served in all the offices of the local organization and in almost all the offices of the state association.

Surviving with Mrs. Weeks are two sons, Dr. O. Douglas Weeks of Austin, Texas, professor of political science in the University of Texas, and Frank D.
Weeks, student in the medical department of the University of Wisconsin.

Frank Weeks arrived yesterday and
Dr. Douglas Weeks is expected to arrive
Wednesday from Texas. Mrs. Weeks, who is in Chicago, will be unable to attend the funeral on account of illness.

Complete arrangements for the funeral,
which will be held Thursday, have not been made.

CITY TO BUY TRACTOR FOR HAULING GARBAGE

Purchase Authorized by Council To Keep Pace with Rapidly Expanding Bureau

In order to handle the steadily increasing business of Marion's municipal garbage collection department, purchase of a tractor to be used in hauling
the vast amount of garbage and refuse gathered daily was authorized last night
by City Council.

The tractor, which will be bought in accordance with a resolution adopted
last night, will cover the garbage department's collections to the dumping ground located about three miles west of the city.

The resolution authorized Service Director O. A. Benedict to advertise for bids on Fordson tractors.

It was explained that bids would be limited to this particular make of tractor because of its low price.

ALL things equal, a strong body
makes possible a strong mind.

But sometimes an overdeveloped brain is the result of a young child's early and makes the body weak.

The child may walk at a year old,
but the result is that he will be weak.

And we haven't it, because we lack
one weapon that counts, the fighting spirit.

HARMON LOEB of Chicago, five weeks old, walks without help and breaks all records.

However, a chicken can walk when it is two weeks old.

The child may walk at a year old,
but the result is that he will be weak.

And we haven't it, because we lack
one weapon that counts, the fighting spirit.

THIS promises to be better flying year for the United States. Rod and Wanamaker is building a Fokker plane the kind that flew around the North pole that Commander Byrd, the North pole pilot, may attempt the hot air balloon.

Ned Davis, also of the American air, will try the same trans-Atlantic flight. And recently Secretary Wilson has established an interesting and important record. WE MAY

TRY.

REV. DR. STRATTON of the Episcopal Church, who is an fundamentalist as the Rock of Ages, says Baptists are doomed, membership in their church is dropping and their gifts to missions falling off—all caused by modernism.

Baptists, on the other hand, say they must prune a tree, even the tree of life, to keep it full of life, and that modern miracles—radios, telephones, flying machines—have used the human intellect to develop something more interesting than a man who is a waste, swallowing a gentleman and spitting him.

DIGS deeper and the news arrived that the entire class seem to be lost in the insurance business.

The report that Mr. Stabler of the Metropolitan publishes concerning the losses, insurance, investments and loans
of the Metropolitan is absolutely significant. It would make Croesus "feel like a pauper" as J. Odgen Aspinwall who has compared himself to Rockefeller and Carnegie.

EXTENSION OF BUCKEYE-ST IS COUNCIL ORDER

Action Taken To Provide Adequate Outlet for Wilson Bohannan Plant

An extension of Buckeye-st from its present terminus to the Hocking Valley railway to provide an adequate outlet for the plant of the Wilson Bohannan Co. factory, which is to be completed and ready for operation about June 1, was authorized by City Council at its meeting last night.

This action was taken in the adoption of an ordinance authorizing the director of public works to accept a deed from Frank A. Huber and A. C. Edmondson for a strip of ground for the street extension. The site for the new factory was purchased from Mr. Huber and Mr. Edmondson.

The deed provides for a thoroughfare 40 feet in width. City Engineer, Charles informed removal of her tombstone and a monument that the extension will make this morning at City Hospital.

HARDING HIGH CAGERS ROTARY CLUB GUESTS

Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz and High Tension Six Share Program at Luncheon

With the Harding High school basketball squad and school officials for their guests, members of the Marion Rotary Club Monday noon enjoyed an interesting and varied program.

After the introduction of the basketball players and coaches the program committee offered a number of musical numbers by Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz, the "High Tension Six," a group of local musicians and a chorus of Rotarians.

The high school boys were the guests of the eight houses of their recent acquaintances in the central district tournament. Their steady playing at Delaware where they worked up to the finale and were finally defeated Saturday by the Columbus South team was the topic discussed by the speakers.

School officials present were Supt. J. H. Mason, member of the club, who introduced the others, Prin. K. H. Marshall, Paul Sprout, Dewey Boyer and Allen Compton, coaches of High School athletics.

The 15 boys who were present at the luncheon were Hugh Schultz, Joe Hunter, Orville Garrett, Charles Evans, Richard McAninch, Ben Gilmore, John Gillies, Chalmers Clark, Donald Crain, Carroll Ross, George Stafford, Edward Houghton, and Richard Zachman and Harold Carroll, student managers. James Reed, another member of the basketball squad, was unable to be present.

Captain Speaks

Joe Hinckes, captain of the team, was called on to speak, and told in a few words how the team came from being one during the entire season to fighting one going into the Delaware tournament. He gave to the coaches the credit for the spirit that brought the boys into the running in the tournament and kept them three until the finale.

After the introduction of the boys and the talk on the basketball work, the program committee again took charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Strelitz sang three numbers. She was accompanied by Miss Mahel Baldwin.

The rotary chorus, which furnished three numbers, was greeted by a long silence at the close of the first number, the word being passed along the tables that applause was not to be used. The last two numbers, however, were given double applause. The "High Tension Six" gave three numbers and closed the program by leading the club in the favorite song "Sweet Adeline."

WOMAN ARRESTED HERE ON POSSESSION CHARGE

Mrs. Louise Bauer, 66, Accused of Having Jug of Alleged Liquor

Mrs. Louise Bauer, 66, of 728 E. Farmington, was arrested at her home yesterday on a charge of illegal possession of liquor and a navigation jug purporting to limit what is said to be pure liquor, as held at the place stated as evidence against her.

Police report having found the jug in a small structure near the Bauer home. Officers visited the place and placed Mrs. Bauer under arrest after several complaints had been received from persons living in the neighborhood. Mrs. Thompson says: Henry L. Bauer, her husband, was not at home when the officers called.

Samuel Morse Felton, chairman of the Chicago Great Western Railroad and chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, has paid a $200 fine in order to keep an engagement in San Francisco, where he was photographed on arrival. Vacationing in Honolulu, he received a hasty call. Ships of foreign register are prohibited from transporting passengers from one American port to another. To keep his engagement, Felton had to take a Japanese ship.

The 15 boys who were present at the luncheon were Hugh Schultz, Joe Hunter, Orville Garrett, Charles Evans, Richard McAninch, Ben Gilmore, John Gillies, Chalmers Clark, Donald Crain, Carroll Ross, George Stafford, Edward Houghton, and Richard Zachman and Harold Carroll, student managers. HOCKING VALLEY REPAIR TRACKS WILL BE MOVED

Men at Work Preparing New Sidings and Buildings Near Engine House

Within the next month the repair tracks of the Hocking Valley Railroad in Marion will be located north of the engine house, near the Garden City park.

Men are at work now building the tracks and preparing a place for the sheds and buildings now situated near the Union Station along the right of way of the Hocking Valley road.

present repair tracks, just north of the Union Station, will be abandoned and torn up. The buildings will be moved to the new location.

There will be two tracks, each having the capacity of at least eight cars. It was said today, and they said he ready for use by the last of this month.

Moving of the repair tracks and buildings is only one step of many taken by the Hocking Valley to clear its right of way.

New Train

The Erie Railroad, starting tomorrow, has a new merchandise train operating from Chicago via Marion to New York. This new train, running on a fast time schedule, will leave Marion at 5:30 each night, making the third Marion delivery of the day to New York and other eastern points.

The merchandise train will carry the fourth morning delivery out of Chicago to New York and eastern points.

Wets Recognize Baltimore as Wet Citadel of Nation

J. Charles Linthicum Unanimously Chosen Standard Bearer To Succeed Hill

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Baltimore seems to be recognized as the wet citadel of the United States.

A person might have thought it would be New York.

But no. The House of Representatives' wet bloc leadership appears to go to a Baltimorean at right.

Before Congressman John Philip Hill, day in Washington, there really wasn't a wet leader in the lower house. There was wet sentiment but it wasn't consolidated.

Hill quickly aligned it under his banner when he arrived on the scene three terms ago, from the third Maryland district, which is part of Baltimore.

But for the next two years, at least, Hill won't be available. He tried to get into the Senate, was liked, and thereby lost his status as a representative, too.

The wets had to elect a new standard bearer. They promptly and unanimously chose J. Charles Linthicum of the fourth Maryland district, which is the other part of Baltimore.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pine into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake.

Then add 1½ oz. of sassafras root, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

Pine is a special and highly concentrated compound of gum pine, pine-needle and granulated sugar root, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pine" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BE that as it may, Linthicum's right on the job.

Most of Congress has gone home, but Linthicum's door in the House Office Building is wide open; Linthicum's at his desk and his typewriter's tapping the keys.

"The work we wets do between now and next December will tell the story," he says.

"There are a few real wets in Congress and a few real drys, but the vast majority, though they're reckoned as drys now, are ready to flop in a minute, and vote wet, if they believe their districts want them to.

"Our business is to convince this huge majority that the country's sick of the soaking wet regime of lawlessness which is what so-called prohibition actually is, and wants to get back to genuine temperance."

UNDER the constitution we're entitled now to beer and light wines, Linthicum holds, since the Eighteenth Amendment prohibits only intoxicants, and beer and light wines are non-intoxicating, he says.

So his first proposal is to modify the Volstead Law.

Then his aim is to go after the amendment, not by re-amendment, but by means of a constitutional convention, to adopt a new code of fundamental laws, which could be done, he points out, by a simple majority, without the necessity for repeated two-thirds votes.

Linthicum denies that he wants "hard hiker" back. On the contrary, temperance is what he declares he's working for.

LINTHICUM'S program isn't so very new, though its constitutional conception feature of it is comparatively so, but at any rate he's a new hand at the helm.

The drys last night picked their new leader yet since Congressman W. D. Isham, their old one, was elected last fall to Congress.

Linthicum hopes to put on over one million while they're making up their minds.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" if cross, bilious or feverish

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harness, "fruity laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

COUNCIL HEARS PROGRAM FOR CITY STREETS

reached after Mr. Dunn had made several visits to Council. An ordinance was adopted fixing the pay of employees at the city sewage treatment works and changing the working schedule from two 12-hour shifts to three of eight hours each. The pump engineers, who are expert mechanics, will receive 62 and a half cents, an hour and the laborers 50 cents. The new schedule will go into effect May 1 and will result in only a small increase in operating costs. Council was informed.

The Volstead law wasn't enacted as a revenue producer, but it will take a lot of talking to make Canada believe it isn't.

All things considered, we suppose we will have to award the palm to Senator Borah as being the best living example of "The Ready Letter Writer."

There's no denying that having that little income tax matter off our minds helps mightily in boosting the batting average of the joy of living.

Two banks more closed their doors in Florida yesterday. It may cause hardship for a time, but Florida is always in line for reparation as long as she retains her ideal beaches and her peerless winter weather.

The only depressing phase of the advance notices of the coming transatlantic flight is the way the big city papers—or the majority of them, at least—are spelling transatlantic.

It can hardly be held that the many recent jail and prison deliveries have come so closely bunched at the result of chance. They rather indicate that the criminal world at last is officially equipped to corrupt prison officials.

The supreme court of the United States has affirmed the right of the negro to vote at a Democratic primary in Texas, but at this distance the right looks like a twin brother to the one we true aristocrats of the land have over automobile traffic. We can't exercise it and survive.

The so-called Americans who want to turn the running of the United States over to Europe will please take notice that even China will be up in arms against the domination of foreigners.

A Canton paper says the Mellett case has already cost Stark county $30,000. Cheap enough, so far as it has gone. If they'll just round up the rest of the Canton underworld at the same rate of expenditure it will be well worth to that city and county ten times the cost, and then some.

Classing Senator King, of Utah, as an undesirable, Hayti refuses to permit him to enter her domain. Now wouldn't it be awful should Nicaragua follow the same course should Senator Borah conclude to take a little trip down there at his own expense to help him in his campaign in opposition to the government's policies?

Uncle Sam Losing Money.

It develops that the members of the upper house of congress played something of a joke on themselves when they permitted the closing hours of their last session to end in a filibuster, which caused the failure of enactment of emergency legislation to the extent of something like $100,000,000. Among the various emergency items was one of $6,500 to make up the annual loss on the senate restaurant. Without the deficit being made good, the announcement is made that the restaurant must close, and thus the members of the senate who plan to remain in Washington till the opening of the next session of congress will have to look elsewhere for their noonday meals. They will have to eat the fare of the general public and be compelled to forego the special dishes to which they are addicted, dishes especially prepared to suit their tastes, and, worse still, pay what the general public has to pay for what it eats.

We have said the joke is on the members of the senate, which is somewhat of a departure from the general rule, for usually the joke is upon the public. It would have been in this case had the emergency legislation been enacted. The fact that the public has escaped being the butt of the joke in this case rather seems to arouse the suspicion that, without knowledge on its part, it has been the victim of the joke in the past.

During the war there might have been excuse for Uncle Sam to engage in the hotel business as an emergency measure, but it's a bit hard to understand why he should run a restaurant at a loss in time of peace. There can be no serious objection to senate and house restaurants if maintained without loss, but it's hard to understand why the government should run restaurants at a loss for the entertainment of members of the two houses of congress and the friends they may entertain. True an item of $6,500 is a small one in a $4,000,000,000 government, but it is also somewhat small for members of one of the three branches of a $4,000,000,000 government to permit that government to feed them and their friends at an annual loss of $6,500 in one restaurant, and possibly a heavier loss in the other. We assume that this is one of the emoluments of office of which we at times read.

That Proposed Naval Parley.

We noted among Monday's cables one from London to the effect that the British government had instructed its embassy in Paris and Rome to use their utmost endeavor to persuade France and Italy to enter into a naval parley proposed by the United States to be two countries of continental Europe merged. Great Britain and Japan, and into which the last two have signed their willingness to enter.

We have long felt that we as a nation were outgeneraled in the naval disarmament conference for the reason that we alone had something to lose while the other parties to it had nothing to lose and everything to gain. We took the agreement entered into literally and proceeded to act upon it in utter good faith, a course not followed by any of the other signatories to it.

At the time we alone had the means to build up a great navy, one which would give us pre-eminence upon the high seas. More than that, we were building it. We had upon the stocks and already launched some of the fastest, largest and most powerful battleships ever designed. We scrapped some of them and converted some into accepting carriers. No other power scrapped an up-to-date ship. We acted in perfectly good faith in other respects, a course manifestly held by the other powers in the conference as worthy of the highest commendation, but one emulated by none of them.

The central thought of those calling the conference was to do away with the awful expense of naval expansion and upkeep. It was to be an economy measure. Was it so treated? Not at all. The other nations to the agreement discontinued the building of battleships save for replacement purposes, but they proportionally increased their expenditures for cruisers, submarines, cruiser submarines and aeroplanes. They acted in bad faith so far as the impelling idea behind the calling of the conference was concerned.

We thought at the time that they had got away from us everything they wanted. We thought recently that the reluctance manifested by France and Italy about entering the proposed parley was due to the fact that we didn't have anything left Europe cared to have junked. But we are becoming suspicious. The ready willingness of Great Britain and Japan to enter and the enthusiasm shown by Great Britain to get France and Italy to meet and talk the thing over have worked to convince us that we must be mistaken, that Great Britain and Japan have discontinued the building of battleships save for replacement purposes, but they proportionally increased their expenditures for cruisers, submarines, cruiser submarines and aeroplanes. They acted in bad faith so far as the impelling idea behind the calling of the conference was concerned.

We thought recently that the reluctance manifested by France and Italy about entering the proposed parley was due to the fact that we didn't have anything left Europe cared to have junked. But we are becoming suspicious. The ready willingness of Great Britain and Japan to enter and the enthusiasm shown by Great Britain to get France and Italy to meet and talk the thing over have worked to convince us that we must be mistaken, that Great Britain and Japan have discontinued the building of battleships save for replacement purposes, but they proportionally increased their expenditures for cruisers, submarines, cruiser submarines and aeroplanes. They acted in bad faith so far as the impelling idea behind the calling of the conference was concerned.

GRANCONIA - AV AVING PROJECT P TO COUNCIL

Property Owners Divided on Question of Improvement; Petition Filed

Proposed on Granconia are two projects, one of which is the question of whether the project or not and the other is put up to City investigating against it. There were 10 signatures on the petition favoring the improvement and 12 on the petition against it. The petition to construct a bridge across the creek, the cost of which would exceed $100,000, would extend from Center to the North line of lot No. 113.

According to wording of the petition, the 10 signatures on the project, which are not financially responsible, the 12 shares of the cost and the assessors, if it is claimed, would place an additional burden upon them.

Manuel J. Jones, one of the petitioners, was present and informed council that should the project be passed, it would mean that some of the persons assessed would be forced to give up their homes, due to the fact that they still own on the properties. He said that three persons had signed the petition and the response came:

10 Vacant Lots

In response to an inquiry from members of council, Mr. Jones said that there are 10 vacant lots up the street, asking that the project be passed and the other re- important bearing on the decision of

Neither age nor business cares - just Dandruff

You have a fine head of hair—even if you've got it.

But until you have solved the dandruff
problem.

A prescription called Danderine completely disappears dandruff. Removes every particle of dead skin. Hair takes on new life. And now hair has a chance to grow. That's all there is to it.

Now when men and women use things to get the effects of dandruff! Or douse their heads with something intended to touch hair or scalp! The way to treat dandruff is to get rid of it. Use the one thing made to dissolve dandruff—and take that that does!

Every druggist in this country has Danderine, and knows what it will do. He knows it will do the work, and knows why. He will gladly take the time to tell you, if you ask him. And it costs 35 cents!

Taking the Gamble Out of Inexpensive Tires

Price is an important factor in buying tires, but it is secondary to quality.

When you buy USCOP Tires you not only get the advantage of an extremely low price, but you buy quality built-in by the United States Rubber Company and sold with the standard warranty.

USCOP Tires cost no more than those foundlings
that are unbacked by the firm that made them.

If you want quality as well as price, look on the sidewall of the tire for the name and trademark of the United States Rubber Company.

It is your protection in buying inexpensive tires.

CITY COUNCIL AGAIN URGED TO REMEDY SEWERS

State Department of Health
Asks Local Legislative Body
To Take Action

Probability that City Council will soon take definite action to remedy local sewer conditions in accordance with instructions to make a survey of the required percentage of property owners is represented in the petition.

Sidewalk Petition
A petition for sidewalk on the south side of Harrison Street from State to the end of Harrison, reported back with the street and alley committee's proposal, was referred to the city solicitor for preparation of legislation necessary for authorizing the improvement. A petition for a street light at the corner of Tyler and E. Fairmount, its was referred to the light committee.

Miss Michal Elias, who resides on a corner located east of the Public Library building between State and Main, appeared before Council and urged that the sidewalk fair be passed. Council promised that action would be taken soon on a petition for the improvement which was filed several months ago.

SUSPECT CONFESSES TO HIS PART IN SLAYING

Names "Triggerman" in Murder of Night Watchman at Cleveland Plant

Cleveland, Mar. 13.—One of four suspects held by police in connection with the killing of Jasper Russell, night
watchman for the Midland Steel Products Co., here Sunday night, has confessed his complicity in the "job" and has named the "triggerman," it was learned here today.

Alex Mayner, the man who confessed, told detectives he and a companion were in the office of the steel company attempting to open the safe when the night watchman approached. Both ran into the yard with Russell in pursuit.

Reaching the fence of the mill yard, Mayner jumped over, according to his story. A moment later he heard a shot and the other man joined him, he stated.

The man named in Mayner's story as the actual gunman in the killing, is under arrest but has not yet confessed to his part in the crime.

Detectives expect the suspect to "break" when confronted with the evidence given by his companion.

Stabbed By Neuritis!

Many people suffer attacks by this abnormal, commonly called "nerve inflammation." The first warning is usually a sharp, stabbing pain, which may "come and go" or hurt constantly.
You may feel it in the shoulder, neck,
forearm, small of the back, knee, thigh and leg to the heel. It is sometimes mistaken for sciatica, rheumatism or neuritis, which troubles
often do end in neuritis.

No matter where you have nerve pains or what caused them, you can get quick relief without using narcotics or poisons. Apply Tysoil over the part that hurts and the pain will soon gone.

Tysoil is absorbed through the pores of the skin. It has a soothing, healing effect upon the diseased nerves, gradually restoring to them
a healthy condition.

Don't suffer any longer. Get a supply of Tysoil at any good drug store.
Price 50¢ everywhere.

FRANCIS BEEDING

Coming THE SIXTY-FIVE
in the sliding room were a bag and a basket
on them. I recognized Alexei, the first prisoner I had met, and who had been taken from his imaginary room. His appearance was more disordered than ever. His hair was completely disheveled, and his whole face was a mask of sleep.

"What's he saying?" asked the governor.

"It's all right," I replied. "He means the room where I was confined.
Follow me."

I dashed up the stairs and into the well-remembered corridor. Down it I ran and paused opposite my old room.

I listened intently, putting my ear to the keyhole. I could hear shuffling within and hard breathing, then a well-known voice:

"I sorry, Mr. Clapole, you not make tolerable stay in strong room, because you now obliged to make end of clever American policeman."

"Clapole, I shouted, banging on the door frantically. "Hold them off. For God's sake, hold them off!" And I fired twice at the lock.

The door refused to yield. By that time the gendarmes were beside me.

"Quick," I said. "They are killing him in there."

At the moment there was the sound of a crash within the room.

The three of us put our shoulders
to the door and gave a great heave, but it still held. We drew back and the gendarmes stood all together, the full breadth of the corridor away. Then we flung our united weight at the door.

AT LAST! The FIRE BRIGADE

Coming THE MARION and shown in co-operation with Marion Fire Department.

It gave with a crash and we stumbled leading into the room.

A complete picture of the room as it presented itself at that moment was photographed hurriedly upon my brain,
so that I yet will recall every detail
of a scene that took me only a flash of instant to realize. Being no expert from the others, looking with calm in quiet towards the oven, was the Center.
His face was quite composed and he seemed another world from the vulgar scullery that was taking place only a few yards away. He was as I had seen him before, in Japanese dress, in fact, which still further associated him with the things that ensued. Clapole was bound to chain which had taken the place of one of two Japanese servants in the act of setting fire again as the door gave way. He had just completed this action as we entered and was now holding the head of Clapole over the back of it with one hand, while the other hand held a long-handled curved knife of antique design. Standing beside him was Doctor Knutz, his face swathed in bandages.

The picture broke up and during the next few moments all was uproar and confusion, except for the agonized but motionless figure of the Center.

Some one brushed lightly past me almost before I was in the room. It was the mad Alexei. His eyes were blazing and shouting some strange cry
in Russian, he rushed forward and tore at the bandages on Knutz's face.

At the same time I saw that the knife on the hands of the Japanese servant was raised to strike. Quick as thought I leveled my pistol and pulled the trigger. The report was deafening and the man fell across Clapole, blood pouring from his throat, the knife falling to the floor and striking upright in the boards
some feet in front of him. Simultaneously Knutz, with a howl of fury, struck the miserable Alexei in-stinctly at his feet.

"Ilands up," I shouted.

Knutz obeyed and by this time two gendarmes had secured the room. Already had he had the other Japanese servant and had the Center covered. I faced him for an instant in dead silence.

Then, spreading his delicate hands,
he raised them slightly.

"You come like ghost from grave,
Mr. Quexier," he said, "and you come at critical moment."

Clapole was still bound to the chair.

Most people use tapioca only in pudd-ings, but the soup recipe in the following menu gives it another use that may be new to you. A trout salad is often the answer to "What shall we have for dinner?"

Tapioca Soup—To two quarts of water put a soup bone, salt to taste, chopped onion, and few shakes of cayenne salt, and let simmer one hour. Add one cup of tapioca and stir occasionally till it thickens. When serving add one half cup milk to one cup soup.

Candle Light—Place slice of pine apple in sherbet. Cut a banana in half and fit in center of pineapple. Put a cherry on tip of banana, letting cherry juice run on whipped cream which is put around the banana. Banana represents candle. Cherry the light and the juice the running wax.

REPORT BROWNING WON SUIT AROUSES JUDGE

New York Newspaper De-
Counter Suit

White Plains, N. Y., Mar. 15—Published reports that the separation suit of "Peaches" and "Daddy" Browning had resulted in a decision in favor of the elderly real estate man, aroused the ire of Supreme Court Justice Albert H. F. Seeger here today.

Justice Seeger, who presided at the trial and in whose hands the case rested, arrived here this morning from his home in Newburgh to preside at the regular term of court. He closed himself in his chambers and declined to see newspapermen threatening to "punch him through the window" any reporter who attempted to question him.

SAYS "DADDY" IS VICTOR IN SUIT

New York, Mar. 15.—The New York American in a copyrighted article today stated that Edward W. "Daddy" Browning has won the separation suit he brought against his wife, the former "Peaches" Ileman.

"Peaches" has lost her counter suit against "Daddy," and with it any chance of getting alimony, according to the American.

In denying "Peaches" a separation, it is understood, the newspaper said that Justice A. H. Seeger found her charges of alleged cruelty trivial and in some instances found it difficult to credit her testimony.

CITY ENGINEER CATCHES GIVES SEWER REPORT

Remarkably Complete and Detailed Outline Is Presented to
City Council

A remarkably complete and detailed report on Marion's sewer system, compiled by City Engineer T. S. Cathers, was submitted to City Council at its meeting last night.

The report gives a comprehensive history of both the sanitary and storm water systems since the first lines were laid in 1891 up to the present time. It traces the routes of all the main lines and includes a description of the sewage treatment works.

Mr. Cathers shows how city officials during past years greatly underestimated the prospects of Marion's growth by failing to provide sewer facilities of adequate proportions.

GIRL IS FOUND

Mary Cebell, 16, Bent On Career in Movies Betrays Herself

New York, Mar. 15.—Mary Cebell, 16, a girl who has been missing since Wednesday was found early today at Lake George in the Adirondacks. Her identity was not disclosed when she reported from the state agent there the news of a $1000 a week job. She was determined, she said, to have a career in the movies.

Miss Cebell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Cebell, resides permanent in New York and Vermont, and attended the fashionable private school until the morning of her disappearance. At first it was believed that she might have gone to visit relatives in Connecticut, Virginia or Texas, and police in those places were notified to look for her.

The girl's father left immediately for Hudson Falls, where Mary was taken through the window" any reporter who attempted to question him.

SAYS "DADDY" IS VICTOR IN SUIT

New York, Mar. 15.—The New York American in a copyrighted article today stated that Edward W. "Daddy" Browning has won the separation suit he brought against his wife, the former "Peaches" Ileman.

"Peaches" has lost her counter suit against "Daddy," and with it any chance of getting alimony, according to the American.

In denying "Peaches" a separation, it is understood, the newspaper said that Justice A. H. Seeger found her charges of alleged cruelty trivial and in some instances found it difficult to credit her testimony.

MINERS STILL READY TO RESUME NEGOTIATIONS

Declare They Will Not Accept
Reduction of Existing Wage Scale, However

Bellair, Mar. 15.—Official confirmation of reports widely circulated that officials of the United Mine Workers' Union had made overtures looking toward a resumption of wage negotiations with Ohio coal operators, in an effort to avoid a cessation of operations in the soft coal fields of the state at the expiration of the Jacksonville Wage Agreement Mar. 31, was lacking here today.

The miners stand where they have always stood—ready to resume negotiations anytime the operators indicate a desire to do so," said Adolph Pavicic, president of Sub-District No. 5, which is holding its convention here today. "But we stand firmly on the position outlined by the miners' union representatives at the Miami conference—no reduction of the existing wage scale."

The official action to date has taken no official action relative to the wage scale, but union officials unanimously expressed a determination to stand by the refusal of the miners' wage negotiators to accept any reduction of pay.

Whether or not any definite peace proposal would come out of a conference of eastern Ohio coal operators scheduled for today in Cleveland, the miners here indicated, depended entirely upon the position of the operators seeking a joint conference.

MARION WOMAN'S SON IS AUTHOR OF SCHOOL PLAY

Also Directs Cast for Production;
Mother Sees Opening Performance

Mrs. John Cleary, 133 Oak st., and Mrs. N. L. Gehlbart, 190 Forest st., have returned from Cleveland, where Saturday night they attended the opening performance of the play, "Plots and Plans" written by Mrs. Cleary's son, Homer J. Cleary, a member of the faculty of the University School, of which he is a graduate.

Mr. Cleary received much praise for his dramatic efforts including honorable mention in Cleveland. Topics in connection with school news, His career both as honor student and professor in the school were followed. Mr. Cleary had reached the heights of school dramatics while a student and has for the past several years directed a company of the University School players, from whom were chosen the cast for his play.

COUNCILMEN DISCUSS ZONING SYSTEM BENEFIT

Issue Over Construction of Bakery Building Brings Up
Subject

The question of whether the zoning system was in effect in Marion when the zoning ordinance was passed is being discussed at the council meeting last night.

Although one of the members, T. J. Elliott, of the second ward, at first expressed the opinion that the plan could not be applied until the zoning ordinance was in effect, he agreed with other members in the belief that it does provide ample protection for property owners and that Council should do everything possible to make it effective.

This discussion preceded a vote on a request made by Alvin B. Miller for permission to operate a bakery on the rear of No. 4115 on the Maple Grove addition. The lot is located on the southern end of what is designated on the zoning map as a residence district.

Granting of Miller's request was recommended recently by the City Planning Commission.

"If these requests for building land in residential property in residence districts are going to be granted right along it seems to me that we ought as well do away with the entire zoning plan," Councilman Elliott stated.

It was explained, however, that permits for building had been granted only when the applicants obtained the consent of owners of property located nearest the proposed business site.

The discussion ended by adoption of an ordinance establishing the softwood site as a special commercial district.

Mr. Miller, who was present, expects to start work on the bakery building at once. It will be used as a new home for the Butterfield bakery, now operating on E. Central.

The miners stand where they have always stood—ready to resume negotiations anytime the operators indicate a desire to do so," said Adolph Pavicic, president of Sub-District No. 5, which is holding its convention here today. "But we stand firmly on the position outlined by the miners' union representatives at the Miami conference—no reduction of the existing wage scale."

A thorough investigation and search of the city's records conducted by City Collector George T. Geran and Fire Chief McFarland recently disclosed that Marion has had no ordinance prohibiting the public from interfering with the functions of the fire department and the necessary legislation was provided in action taken by City Council last night.

An ordinance providing a fee of not less than $5 nor more than $100 for any act construed as detrimental to the interests of the local firemen's work was adopted.

Special reference is made to driving an auto or any other vehicle over the house while it is in use, and also to the parking of vehicles in the vicinity of fire.

Although there have apparently been no ordinance of this kind on record several persons have been arrested and fined during recent years for driving over fire hose. The fact that there has actually been no legal legislation in force authorizing the assessment of such fines was not discovered until the city collector and fire chief began their recent investigation.

Notre Dame and Michigan Each Land Two Cagers on All-Western Team

Mar. 15.—A preponderating strength in armament of all-around basketball players has been displayed by popular Notre Dame and officials of the school and presented by the Notre Dame team to the All-Western team.

Two From Notre Dame
It is unusual but not surprising that two schools, Michigan and Notre Dame, should be favored with two places each on the first selection. Michigan's representatives were the backbone of its Big Valley representative of striking shooting ability.

The men selected, however, were not the choices of the officials solely for their uncanny marksmanship, but are equally adept at all other departments of the game.

Two From Michigan
Michigan has suffered a heavy loss from last year's selection. McNaught, the All-Western guard, has gone to the All-American team, and Harrigan, third and often a favorite, is now on the All-Western and Compton of Notre Dame, keeping ahead with the Lecouer and Nylas by a point. Nylas, the play on a team record much higher than either of the two other All-Western guards, is one of the strongest scoring guards in the West, being second perhaps only to Hart, of Ohio State, at second team choice, and is a guard of rare promise.

Michigan's greatest popularity, however, is not in guarding and team play, but being less of a scoring threat than either Devel, or McDonough, or Compton, who was selected for the All-American team.

First Marion Boxing Show Huge Success; Tremaine and Roy Newton in Draw

Jimmy Maloney Makes Hit with Fans in Preliminary with Whitey Morrett of Columbus; Ike Jones Puts Up Great Battle Against Lou Bloom

Seating space was the only thing lacking at the first Marion boxing show of the season, held last night in Eagles' Hall, W. Center. The small hall on the second floor of the building was packed to the doors with local fans of theistic sport, and plans have already been made to hold the next show, April 4, on the third floor, where more spectators may be accommodated.

The entire card from the first preliminary to the final bell of the bout, abounded with action and may be pronounced a huge success.

Despite the fact that the first three bouts were fast, the draw battle of Roy Newton, a tow-headed youth from Mansfield, and Clyde Tremaine, a tough young gentleman out of Cleveland, in the finals, featured more action than the initial trio combined. The draw decision was given by Referee Pat Mann, and Judges Bert Shelton and Norris Crissinger.

Prerequisites
No decisions were given in the preliminaries and semi-final. The Jones, a Marion boy, held his own with Lou Bloom, of Columbus, an old hand at the game. Wildcat Jimmy Maloney, another local youth, and Whitey Morrett, of Columbus, raced through four rounds in the second bout for an even break.

The semi-final performance was cut short when Harold Williams, of this city, weighing in at 126 pounds, was injured in the first round of his bout with Irvin Grace, Columbus, in at 121. The examining physician declared Williams was "pinched evidently by a foul," but ringside has various opinions of just how the accident occurred.

Newton and Tremaine stepped into immediate action in the first round and delighted the hearts of the 250 men who were witnessing the scene. The boys battled on even terms in the first rounds, but half their crew would be idle while the other half was exercising.

Atkins, Col., Mar. 15.—The Cubs were at the old training ground today following a disastrous three game series with the Cardinals and the Hollywood stars of the coast league. The Braden pride suffered on account of the last game which they allowed the Cards to steal by batting a man out of them.

F. Myers, Fla., Mar. 15.—The second game of the two-game series between the Cardinals and Athletics was scheduled at the Philadelphia camp here this afternoon. The Cardinals lost a close decision to the champs yesterday at Avon Park, 6 to 5.

HOPE TO BOOST MARKS

The batting average of .357, hung up by Heinie Manush of Detroit in winning the American League batting title in 1926, was the lowest credited to a champ since Cobb topped the crown in 1915 with a .370 mark. George Uhlo of the Indians led the league with a percentage of .711 for games won. This is the fourth lowest average turned in by the leading batters in the league in its history. The marks were "good enough" to turn the trick but both hope to better them this season.

"Bill" Clemens Making Plans for Racing Season

J. W. Clemens, one of Marion's most enthusiastic horsemen, is making elaborate plans for the coming racing season. With three breed of horses started at the local track, he is content on having some formidable racing material, and in order to have all features in harmony he has purchased new equipment, the sulky, carts, awning and traps being painted blue and yellow to conform to his driver's silks, and will be as dressy as any seen on the circuit.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

It was a kind of a slow and dreary day for Jubilee down by the river in the morning. And, as the time I was walking, I heard a song when I fed my hogs. The old fisherman said the young man was making a fool of himself. Father is always off and on, and he is always off and on, because he is a grandfather. He asked him, "Why?" The grandfather said he was making all the peach trees think it was spring when it was not, putting out buds and blossoms would be a freeze, and when he came we could not smell him very much. He took the note and read it, and looked mad, and told me to give up any peaches. The grandfather told my mother that he had found the jar of peaches in the cellar, and asked her if she was saving any more of them, and said she was sure that he had been spoiled that way. He had made my mother a dress and made her man. She told her she would give him a good punch of a able to receive a dose of alcohol, and my mother said it was so long between them that he didn't know if he could stand it much longer. He had some in some shellac cans, and the old man made his uppers and his lowers, and did not leave the room to hold his pipe. My mother went to the vacant lot in front of the house, but it had been taken away. Mrs. Farmer called me and said I would take a note for her and she would take a note for her and I said I would, so she gave me the note and told me to go with it. We read the note

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

Not a note! Oh, I must have become deaf during my long winter sleep in the mud! Oh, this is dreadful! I'm deaf—deaf as a post! Oh, dear! To think this should happen to me and so fond of music as I am! I can't hear Uncle Wiggily playing his music box! Oh, dear! Oh, dear!

Hearing these sad sounds near his bungalow, Uncle Wiggily hurried out. There he found Mr. Poke with tears in his eyes, slowly wagging his tail.

"What's the matter?" asked the bunny.

"I'm deaf," sighed Mr. Poke. "I saw you playing your music box and I listened, but I couldn't hear a thing, even though the window was open a crack. Oh, send for Dr. Possum! Perhaps he can cure my deafness so I can hear you play your music box, Uncle Wiggily!"

"Music box?" chuckled the rabbit.

"Music box?" asked the rabbit. "I'm sure the mud turtle wishes to see his hopping friend. So, after summing himself for a while longer on the bank, Mr. Poke began slowly to crawl toward the hole of the mud turtle. Mr. Poke could look in the window.

"I should be glad to see Uncle Wiggily," said the turtle, "and I think he would be glad to see me."

After what seemed almost like a year, Mr. Poke, who could only crawl very slowly, after what seemed almost a year, but which, really, was only over half an hour, Mr. Poke reached Uncle Wiggily's home. On one side was a low window and by standing up on a tall stool and his hind legs and by pressing his front legs against the wall of the bungalow Mr. Poke could look in the window.

For the mud turtle gentleman did not want to see Uncle Wiggily even before knocking on the door.

"He may be off adventuring, which I shall soon be doing," thought Mr. Poke, wondering how he could hear the rabbit's voice so plainly. "What was it?"

"That was a new kind of coffee grinder," laughed Mr. Longears. "It makes no noise. I bought it for my wife and I was just trying it. It isn't a music box at all—it's just a noiseless coffee grinder."

"Ha! Ha!" chuckled Mr. Poke. "No wonder I couldn't hear it. But I'm glad I'm not deaf! Hurrah!" Mr. Longears said he, also, was glad. Then he and Mr. Poke went down to the drug store to get a chocolate soda. And if the goldfish doesn't get water in his eyes when he sings a song for the rubber ball, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's little party."

"I certainly love music!" murmured the turtle. "If I was a little quicker or my feet I suppose I could learn to dance. But, as it is, I can listen to music. I certainly love a good tune! I wonder if—er—ha—

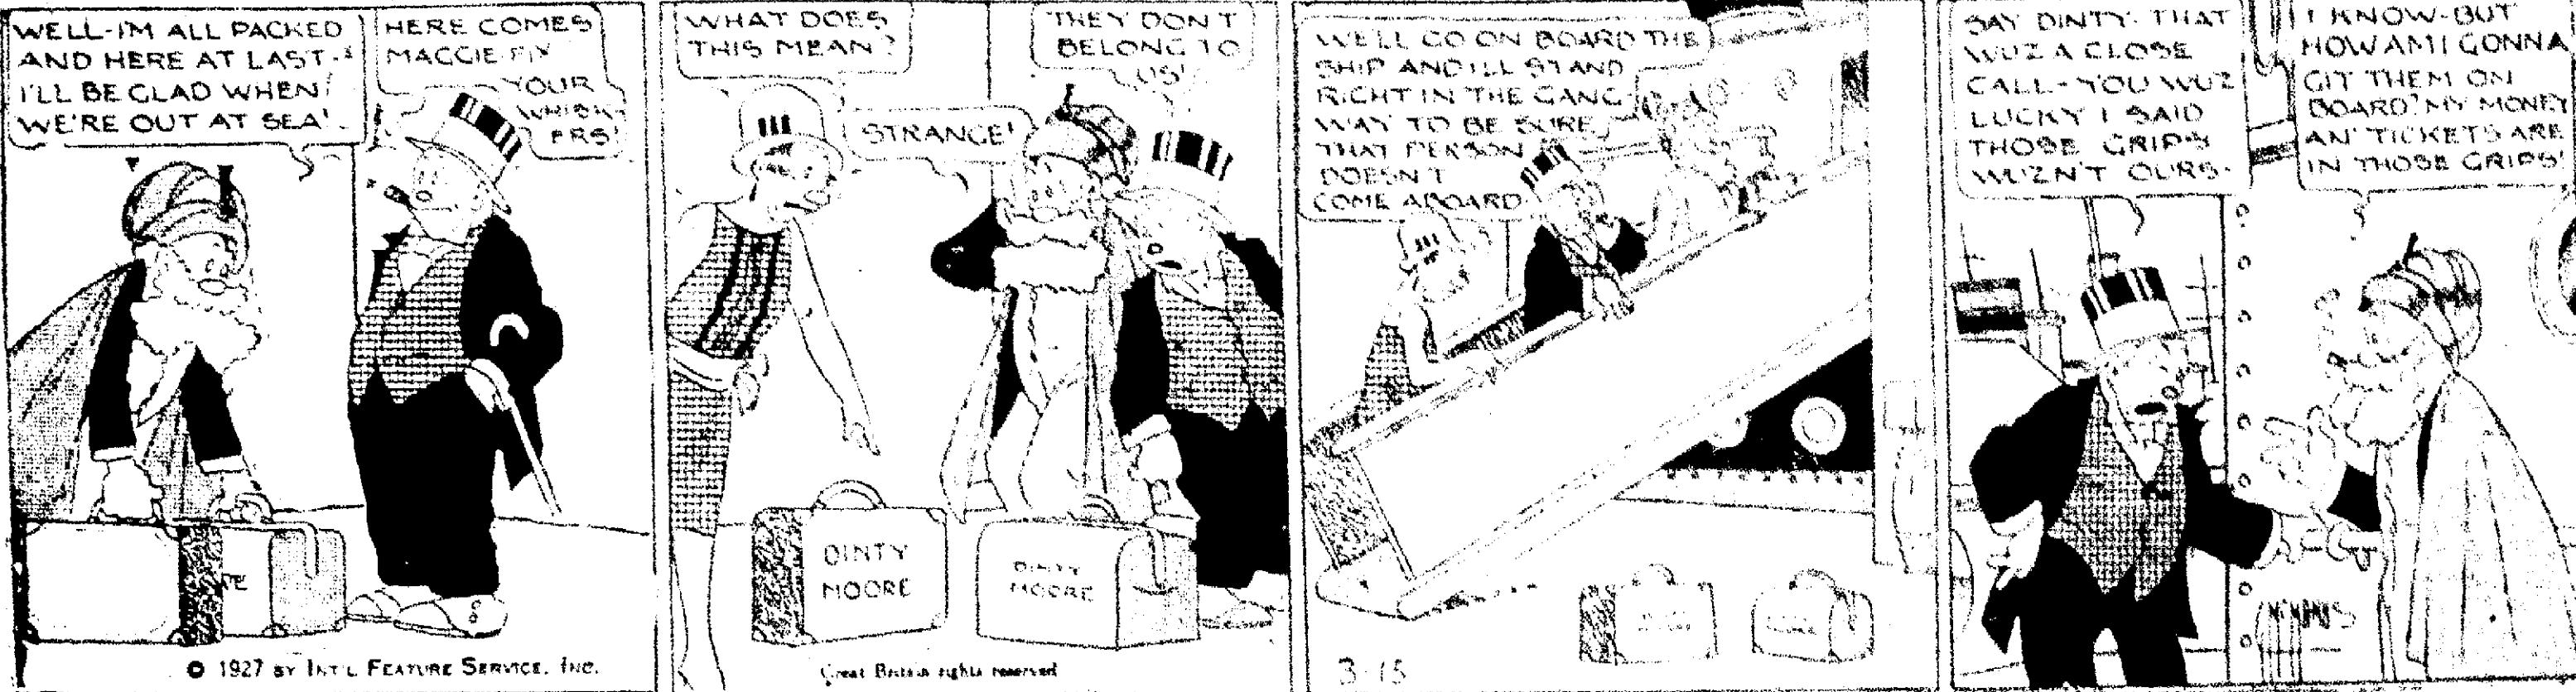

A queer look came over Mr. Poke's face. As he stood there by the window, leaning with all his might, he could hear a single note of music, he could hear Uncle Wiggily turning the handle of the music box harder than ever.

"This is very strange!" said Mr. Poke. "I can't hear any pretty music!"

House Passes Measure

The house Monday night adopted the Emmons resolution seeking to compel purchasing agents of the state and of state institutions to buy only Ohio

made pottery and earthenware. The resolution now goes to the senate.

The house also passed the Elkhorn

bill, providing for reorganization of our hospitals after remediation of their charters, and the Ball hills regulating

use of expert witnesses in criminal trials, and expert medical witnesses

where the sanity of the accused is involved. The three bills now go to the senate.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE OF DEFRAUDING

Robert Gray, 42, Arraigned in

Municipal Court; Hearing Set. Police News

Robert Gray, 42, of 129 Orchards, pleaded not guilty to the charge of defrauding an innkeeper when arraigned in Municipal Court yesterday and his hearing was set for 3 o'clock this afternoon. Gray was arrested on two affidavits, one filed by S. R. McEntire,

owner and manager of the Model

Restaurant, located in the Miller Market on S. Main St., and the other by Mrs. Mary Jennings of W. Center St.

McEntire claims that Gray owes him

$8 for a board bill and Mrs. Jennings' claim is for $7 room rent.

R. C. Donnelly 24, of Prospect, was fined $10 and costs on the charge of operating an automobile with only one license plate attached. The fine was suspended when Donnelly promised to install the other plate on his machine.

Frank Lawrence 34, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Willard Barnard, 19, who resides

at the corner of Prospect and Mill Sts.

also drew a $10 fine on an intoxication

charge.

William Wright 54, of Easton, Pa., and

Henry Miller 55, of New York City, pleaded guilty to loitering and were released when they promised to leave the city at once.

The Building Business is one of Risks

At the best, the builder has a lot of responsibilities.

But the fire risk is one that he can shift to other shoulders.

Builders' Risk Insurance

protects him from monetary loss by fire

We invite builders to learn from us, without

A Good Flying Year

J. P. ROSENWALD has supplied an important library at the most modern monument
to the past. Biggs may cause Mr.
Rosenwald to be remembered
as one who can be remembered for his great charities in this country.

Those who would interest themselves in religious books should know about it and the library where he lived in the old days. The old days were when millions of people had no books. Those who had books had no abstract vocabulary.

Born in Caledonia.

Dr. Weeks was born in Caledonia, Dec. 12, 1866, and was the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Weeks, of this city. He had practiced medicine in this city for the past 35 years, and was actively interested in the medical societies of the county and state. Dr. Weeks had served in all the offices of the local organization and in almost all the offices of the state association.

Surviving with Mrs. Weeks are two sons, Dr. O. Douglas Weeks, of Austin, Texas, professor of political science in the University of Texas, and Frank D. Weeks, student in the medical department of the University of Wisconsin.

Frank Weeks arrived yesterday and Dr. Douglas Weeks is expected to arrive Wednesday from Texas. Mrs. Weeks, who is in Chicago, will be unable to attend the funeral on account of illness.

Complete arrangements for the funeral, which will be held Thursday, have not been made.

Purchase Authorized by Council
To Keep Pace with Rapidly Expanding Bureau

In order to handle the steadily increasing business of Marion's municipal garbage collection department, purchase of a tractor to be used in hauling the vast amount of garbage was authorized last night by City Council.

The tractor, which will be bought in accordance with a resolution adopted last night, will convey the garbage department's collections to the dumping ground located about three miles west of the city. The resolution authorized Service Director O. A. Benedict to advertise for bids on Fordson tractors. It was explained that bids would be limited to this particular make of tractor because of its low price.

All things equal, a strong body makes possible a stronger mind. But sometimes an overdeveloped brain can be much of a young child's curse and makes the body weak. Take good care of your feeble baby—she may be the best of all.

THIS promises to be a better flying year for the United States. Roland Waranaker is building a Fokker plane, the kind that flew around the world that Commander Byrd, the south pole, may attempt the top of the Atlantic.

Now Davis, also of the American team, will try the same trans-Atlantic flight. And recently Secretary Wilson has established an interesting record. WE MAY SEE

RE. DR. STRATTON of the Bazaar Church, who is as fond as the Rock of Ages, says Bazaar is doomed, membership in their church is dropping and their gifts to missions falling off—all caused by depression.

Methodists, on the other hand, say the most prime a tree, even the tree of life, to keep it full of life. The modern miracle—radios, phonographs, flying machines—have given the human intellect to develop and do something more impressive than a smile, a winking, a gentleman-like smiling him.

BIG business and the newly arrived middle class seem to be best suited in the insurance business. The report that Mr. Stahler of the New York publishers concerning the use of insurance, investments and bonds of the Metropolitan is absolutely startling. It would be as J. C. Penney to compare himself to Roosevelt and Carnegie.

Hocking Valley Repair Tracks Will Be Moved

Men at Work Preparing New Sidings and Buildings Near Engine House

Within the next month the repair tracks of the Hocking Valley Railroad in Marion will be located north of the engine house, near the Garden City park. Men are at work now building the tracks and preparing a place for the sheds and buildings now situated near the Union Station along the right-of-way of the Hocking Valley road. The present repair tracks, just north of the Union Station, will be abandoned and torn up. The buildings will be moved to the new location.

There will be two tracks, each having the capacity of at least eight cars. It was said today, that they will be ready for use by the last of this month.

Moving of the repair tracks and buildings is only one step of many taken by the Hocking Valley to clear its right-of-way.

New Train

The Erie Railroad, starting yesterday, has a new merchandise train operating from Chicago via Marion to New York. This new train, running on a fast time schedule, will leave Marion at 5:30 each night, making the third Marion delivery of the day to New York and other eastern points.

The merchandise train will leave the fourth morning, delivery out of Chicago to New York and eastern points.

J. Charles Linthicum Unanimously Chosen Standard Bearer To Succeed Hill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15—Baltimore seems to be recognized as the wet citadel of the United States.

A person might have thought it would be New York.

But no. The House of Representatives' wet
blue leadership appears to go to a Baltimorean as of right.

Before Congressman John Philip Hill's day in Washington there really wasn't a wet leader in the lower house. There was wet sentiment
but it wasn't consolidated.

Hill quickly aligned it under his banner when he arrived on the scene three years ago, from the third Maryland district, which is part of Baltimore.

But for the next two years, at least, Hill won't be available. He tried to get into the Senate, was licked, and therefore lost his status as a representative too.

The wets had to elect a new standard bearer. They promptly and unanimously chose J. Charles Linthicum of the fourth Maryland district, which is the other part of Baltimore.

He is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most delicious medicine for stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual three and a half cups are composed of 12 cups of water, 12 cups of honey, 12 cups of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

It is a special and highly concentrated compound of pinex. No way pine extract and palatable syrup, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with directions. Guaranteed to kill the most stubborn cough. Nothing money can buy.

To all who don't count a nickel's worth in the wet-and-dry fad, Everybody knew that.

But why should the wets stick so tight to a Baltimorean, with men like Gallivan and LaGuerda, Tinkham and Cellier—yes, old women like Mrs. Kahn—just as wet as they can be?

It just is that Baltimore is a kind of half-mark of wetness—a guarantee that anybody who's stamped with it is thoroughly saturated, clear through.

It is that, as it may, Linthicum's right on the job.

Most of Congress has gone home, but Linthicum's door in the House Office Building is wide open. Linthicum is at his desk and his typewriter's tapping the keys.

"The work we wets do between now and next December will tell the story," he says.

"There are a few real wets in Congress and a few real drys, but the vast majority, though they're reckoned as drys now, are ready to flop in a minute, and vote wet, if they believe their districts want them to.

"Our business is to convince this huge majority that the country's sick of the so-called wet regime of lawlessness which is what so-called prohibition actually is, and wants to get back to genuine temperance.

"Congress dry—in principle? Why, it's ready to change overnight, the minute it senses a change in public sentiment."

Under the constitution we're entitled now to beer and light wines, Linthicum holds, since the Eighteenth Amendment prohibits only intoxicants, and beer and light wines are non-intoxicating, he says.

So his first proposal is to modify the Volstead Law.

Then his aim is to go after the amendment, not by re- amendment, but by means of a constitutional convention to adopt a new code of fundamental laws, which could be done, he points out, by a simple majority, without the necessity for repeated two-thirds votes.

Linthicum denies that he wants "hard liquor" back. On the contrary,

temperance is what he declares he's working for.

LINTHICUM'S program isn't so very new, though the constitutional convention feature of it is comparatively so, but at any rate he's a new hand at the helm.

The drys haven't picked their new leader yet since Congressman W. D. Pashow, their old one, was elected last fall to stay home.

Linthicum hopes to put one over on 'em while they're making up their minds.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED!
LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup"
if cross, bilious or feverish

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harness, "fruity laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

COUNCIL HEARS PROGRAM FOR CITY STREETS

Permit of Material Authorized To Receive Bids in About 30 Days

A large amount of material for street improvement
work in the city during the year will be received last night by the City Council, which has granted authorization
to the City Engineer to advertise for bids on lots of sand, 25
cubic yards of crushed stone, asphalt paving compound or any other material for road repair material to the tune of $100,000.

The extensive program which will be used in an immediate plan of unimproved streets, asphalt paving is to be patched and improved on all of the city's unimproved streets, the service was announced.

The material will be received

The Discovery That Brought Peace of Mind!

Corrects the Chemistry that Make One's Pores Offend

You know why thousands of people who never have to take a laxative, do eat a candy cascara now and then?

They have found that cascara sweetens the whole system—brings an immense of person that means everything. It prevents bodily chemistry from ever making one unconsciously offensive to others. And what a perfect regulator of the bowels!

Salts affect the lining of the bowels.
Mineral salts leave a coating that the blood must carry off through the pores.
How much better to encase the system and cause the bowels to expand every normal, muscular contraction! To say nothing of the cleaner, sweeter condition that lasts for days—
a wholesome condition that makes the use of deodorants quite unnecessary in January and July! Men and women whose years have brought on sluggish-ness often find that a cascara only once a week is the tonic they need.

Cascara is splendid for children, too,
and they lose the taste of this candy laxative which every druggist has for 10c and 25c—Adv.

McQUATE RUBBER PLANT REMOVED TO CRESTLINE

Miller Balloon Corp. Organization Handling Business of Former Local Concern

Removal of all equipment and stock supplies of the McQuate Rubber Co.
from this city to Crestline has been completed and the business is now being handled by the Miller Balloon Corporation,
a newly-organized company, at its plant in Crestline, it was announced today.

The Miller Balloon Corporation was formed to take over not only all of the assets and established business of the McQuate company, but also the property of the defunct Highland Rubber Co., which formerly operated in Union City and went into the hands of a receiver.

The McQuate company, which operated here about five years, built up a nationwide trade in toy balloons and other rubber novelties and in the business years worked night and day and had a force of about 200 employees.

The plant on Henry St., near Woodrow, which was occupied by the Mc-Quate company prior to the removal to Crestline, is now vacant and an effort is being made to locate a new industry
here. The property is owned by W. T.
Jones.

A number of Marion residents are stockholders in the Miller Balloon Corporation. Its organization was effected under the direction of R. T. Want of this city, who will continue permanently as attorney for the company. The officers are L. D. Miller, president, and
B. D. Miller, secretary, both of Crestline.

COLLECTION OF PROPERTY TAXES IS IN PROGRESS

Steady Stream of Persons Visit Treasurer's Office.
Banks Collecting

Collection of taxes on county property has started in good shape, it was reported this morning at the treasurer's office. No great rush has developed yet, and probably will not for several days, but a steady stream of taxpayers visited the office yesterday and today.
Considerable portion of the tax collection of the county will be handled in the banks which have been named to accept tax collection on various days. Seven banks throughout the county have been designated to accept taxes.

The final day for paying taxes this year is April 1.

as long as such cases "continue to be one-sided." Inability of the public to cope with the highly skilled, technically trained corporation counsel and the expert rate, or appraisal, engineers employed by the utilities, according to Mooser was responsible largely for this one-sidedness of rate cases.

Mooser stated that "the ordinary lawyer from a country town is unable to compete in a rate proceeding with expert corporation counsel."

under bond, without first having been specifically authorized to charge increased rates were placed by Mooser on the same plane with the highwayman
"who holds up a man with a gun and takes his pocketbook."

Scores Utilities
Mooser thought it would prove beneficial to utilities if they were not permitted to collect boosted rates under bond. He said he did not believe any Ohio utility was "in such shape that it needs to collect from the public in advance."

Admitting that utilities are entitled
to a reasonable return on their investment, Mooser asserted that improper
action of various utilities in applying
the present situation resulting in the

increased rates was attributed by Mooser to disposition on the part of
the public "not to fight" and to changes
in administration of city officials, particularly city solicitors, or law directors.

Mooser urged the committee to report the Bill bill out in order to per-
on its merits on the floor of the house.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT
FORD LIBEL SUIT

order, Judge Raymond said the order mentioned had never been signed. He also mentioned another order issued by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, who presided in the case a year ago, which gave Ford's counsel authority to amend his plea without any limitations.

"It was claimed under certain prior orders of this court, that the plea could not contain any amendments, notice of which was not given to the plaintiff,"
the court ruled.

Permit Amendment

The laws of the state and federal government permit the amendment of a plea at any time and if this court should ignore the law his order would be of doubtful validity.

The court also explained his position on the second motion.

"It is quite obvious that the plea is defective in some and perhaps many of the paragraphs," Judge Raymond said.
"It is also true that some of the paragraphs of the plea contain no statements of fact and offer no evidence.
They cannot be considered to be sufficient to show justification. Some paragraphs merely declared the inaudiences were incorrect but offered no proof to the contrary. Obviously, such paragraphs are defective in a plea of justification."

The court said it would "take a day"
to point out the specific defects in Ford's plea. He added that he would render rulings during the trial whenever the plaintiff's attorneys thought Ford was introducing evidence not corrected in the "plea of justification."

Of the first 12 persons called to the jury box, six were present. There were eight women present, and all were of the fair sex.

Senator James A. Reed, Democrat,
Missouri, chief of defense counsel, immediately asked the court for permission to question the prospective jurors.
The court said the rules prevented
such a general examination but that attorney had been given the right to ask questions posed by the court. Reed at once brought his chair up in front of the jury box.

Judge Raymond described the case to the venire. He told them in the jury box that the plaintiff, Mrs. Charlotte Sherard, was exonerated immediately
because she knew Mrs. Ford in a social way.

The prospective jurors were asked hundreds of questions by Judge Raymond about their relationship to persons in the case and particularly to Ford and his employees. None had ever been employed by Ford, none had any blood relatives working for Ford, only two knew anybody working for Ford. In fact, it seemed the Ford industry was being overlooked around Detroit.

The question missed by the judge was whether any had ever been paid by Mrs. Ford.

Two Are Jews
In response to a direct question, two prospective jurors, Isaac Greenberg, a retired soldier, and Louis Caplan, a present soldier, declared they were Jews.

"Would you, despite the fact that you are a member of the Jewish race, give the defendant a fair and impartial trial?" the court asked.

"Absolutely," said Caplan. "Religion makes no difference to me."

Asked the same question Greenberg said: "Makes no difference. I would be influenced by it."

The prospective jurors said they did not know Frank O. Lowden, Robert W.
Bingham, of Louisville, Eugene Meyer,
Jr., or Bernard M. Baruch. A dozen lesser lights were just as unknown to the jurors.

Reed Does Questioning
William H. Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's council, asked the male jurors
whether any were members of the Ku Klux Klan. One juror, Jay B. Garson, of Jackson, Mich., post office clerk, said he had been a Klansman for a few months, several years ago. He quit soon after attending a few meetings.

"I joined more out of curiosity than anything else," Garrison explained.
"The question of the Klan opposing the Jewish race had no connection with my joining."

Senator Jim Reed took up the questioning on behalf of Ford. He asked Caplan and Greenberg about their Jewish faith.

Reed led Greenberg into saying he felt any general attack on Jews would be "unfair" and from this to saying such an attack would be "untrue."

"And you think the man (Ford)
who promotes such an attack is unfair?"

"I think a fair man wouldn't do it,"
said Greenberg.

"You would carry that prejudice into the jury box, wouldn't you?"

"I wouldn't carry it into this case,"
said Greenberg, who was apparently anxious to remain on the jury.

With this the court recessed until this afternoon.

The continuation of the trial will extend into every state of the union while scores of political leaders will be involved.
The articles which attacked Sa-piro, also named Frank O. Lowden, Julius Rosenwald, Eugene Meyer, Jr., Bernard M. Baruch, Otto Kahn, and Albert D. Lasker as his associates in the co-operative movement.

Jewish ring sought to implant communist theories in the minds of American farmers.

Could Be Settled

The case has cost Sa-piro a fortune so far while reports were current here
that Ford already has spent $1,000,000 preparing his defense. The auto king

to a reasonable return on their investment, Mooser asserted that improper
action of various utilities in applying
for increased rates was responsible for
the present situation resulting in the introduction of the Bill bill.

increased rates was attributed by Mooser to disposition on the part of
in administration of city officials, particularly city solicitors, or law directors.

Mooser urged the committee to report the Bill bill out in order to permit "proper discussion" of the measure

The presence of Senator James A.
Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, at which fund time as one of Ford's attorneys, brought color to the case. Reed however remained in the background during the proceedings.

The whereabouts of Ford, who was called as a witness by Sa-piro, also became a topic of interest.
Sa-
piro said they would produce Ford
if the court ordered him to stand as a witness against himself. Sapiro's attorneys said they would have him stand in contempt of court if he did not appear. There the matter rested for the moment.

Specifies 111 Instances

Sa-

counts and specified 111 instances,
which he alleged Ford libeled him in the Dearborn Independent article.

Some of the more pungent statements, cited by Sa-piro, follow:

"200,000 (of dollars) were lost

All things considered, we suppose we will have to award the palm to Senator Borah as being the best living example of "The Ready Letter Writer."

There's no denying that having that little income tax matter off our minds helps mighty in boosting the batting average of the joy of living.

You never can tell. What keep them poor and makes us prosperous may be the money European nations expend over here for propaganda to get us to forgive them more of their debts.

The only depressing phase of the advance notices of the coming transatlantic flight is the way the big city papers—or the majority, of them, at least—are spelling transatlantic.

It can hardly be held that the many recent jail and prison deliveries have come so closely bunched as the result of chance. They rather indicate that the criminal world at last is financially equipped to corrupt prison officials.

The supreme court of the United States has affirmed the right of the negro to vote at a Democratic primary in Texas, but at this distance the right looks like a twin brother to the one we true aristocrats of the land have over automobile traffic. We can't exercise it and survive.

The so-called Americans who want to turn the running of the United States over to Europe will please take notice that even China is up in arms against the domination of foreigners.

A Canton paper says the Mallett case has already cost Stark county $30,000. Cheap enough, so far as it has gone. If they'll just round up the rest of the Canton underworld at the same rate of expenditure it will be well worth to that city and county ten times the cost, and then some.

Classing Senator King, of Utah, as an "undesirable," Hayti refuses to permit him to enter her domain. Now wouldn't it be awful should Nicaragua follow the same course should Senator Borah conclude to take a little trip down there at his own expense to help him in his campaign in opposition to the government's policies?

Uncle Sam Losing Money.

It develops that the members of the upper house of congress played something of a joke on themselves when they permitted the closing hours of their last session to end in a filibuster, which caused the failure of enactment of emergency legislation to the extent of something like $100,000,000. Among the various emergency items was one of $6,500 to make up the annual loss on the senate restaurant. Without the deficit being made good, the announcement is made that the restaurant must close, and thus the members of the senate who plan to remain in Washington till the opening of the next session of congress will have to look elsewhere for their noonday meals. They will have to eat the fare of the general public and be compelled to forego the special dishes to which they are addicted, dishes especially prepared to suit their tastes, and, worse still, pay what the general public has to pay for what it eats.

We have said the joke is on the members of the senate, which is somewhat of a departure from the general rule, for usually the joke is upon the public. It would have been in this case had the emergency legislation been enacted. The fact that the public has escaped being the butt of the joke in this case rather seems to arouse the suspicion that, without knowledge on its part, it has been the victim of the joke in the past.

During the war there might have been excuse for Uncle Sam to engage in the hotel business as an emergency measure, but it's a bit hard to understand why he should run a restaurant at a loss in time of peace. There can be no serious objection to scoute and house restaurants if maintained without loss, but it's hard to understand why the government should run restaurants at a loss for the entertainment of members of the two houses of congress and the friends they may entertain. True an item of $6,500 is a small one in a $4,000,000,000 government, but it is also somewhat small for members of one of the three branches of a $4,000,000,000 government to permit that government to feed them and their friends at an annual loss of $6,500 in one restaurant, and possibly a heavier loss in the other. We assume that this is one of the emoluments of office of which we at times read.

That Proposed Naval Parley.

We noted among Mariano's cables from London to the effect that the British government had instructed its embassy in Paris and Rome to use their utmost influence to put aside France and Italy to enter into a naval parity proposed by the United States in the countries of continental Europe, Great Britain and Japan and in so far as the last two have signified their willingness to do so.

We have long felt that we as a nation were outgeneraled in the naval conference of conference for the reason that we as a nation had something to lose while the other powers had nothing to lose and everything to gain. We took the agreement entered into seriously and proceeded to act upon it in utter good faith, a course not followed by any of the other signatories to it.

At the time we alone had the means to build up a great navy, one which would give us pre-eminence upon the high seas. More than that, we were building it. We had upon the stocks and already launched some of the fastest, largest and most powerful battleships ever designed. We scrapped some of them and converted some into aircraft carriers. No other power scrapped an up-to-date ship. We acted in perfectly good faith in other respects, a course manifestly held by the other powers in the conference as worthy of the highest commendation, but one emulated by none of them.

The central thought of those calling the conference was to do away with the naval expense of naval expansion and upkeep. It was to be an economic measure. Was it so treated? Not at all. The other nations, to the aeronauts discontinued the building of battleships save for replacement purposes but they proportionally increased their expenditures for cruisers, submarines and aircraft carriers. They acted in bad faith so far as the impelling idea behind the calling of the conference was concerned.

We thought at the time that they had got away from us everything they wanted. We thought recently that the reluctance manifested by France and Italy about entering the proposed parley was due to the fact that we didn't have anything left Europe cared to have junked. But we are becoming suspicious. The ready willingness of Great Britain and Japan to enter and the enthusiasm shown by Great Britain to get France and Italy to meet and talk the thing over have worked to convince us that we must be mistaken, that Great Britain and Japan have discovered something else we have that they would like to have us junk or give up.

Let Aliens Squabble at Home.

The department of state in Washington has manifested unusual concern for a year or such a matter past that no objectionable foreigners enter our country. We have no fault to find with it for its course. If fault there is to be found it is that more foreigners who might prove objectionable were not excluded. We simply mention the matter of the department's concern to explain our surprise that the bars were not put up against Alexander Kerensky, who was president of the provisional government of Russia which came into power after the downfall of Czar Nicholas. We do not know that our government is under obligation of any kind to Mr. Kerensky. We can think of no reason why he should be treated differently than any other foreigner whose presence here might lead to agitation between factions over here from the land from which he comes. And it should have been manifested that our authorities that there might be trouble as the result of his admission.

Whether or not our authorities were aware of it, Kerensky's first public appearance in the Century theater in New York City, where he spoke to 5,000 people while 7,000 stormed the doors from the outside, Sunday afternoon, demonstrated that he is a trouble maker.

Over here we have Russian followers of Kerensky as the one-time head of the one-time provisional government, Russian communists supporters of the present soviet Russian government and Russian monarchists, and each class bitterly hates the other two.

The Kerensky followers claim the Russian monarchists were the first to come to them and swear allegiance and the first to break away.

They hold that the communists stole the freedom of the Russian people. The communists hate the other two factions on the general principle that they are to hate everything and everybody save themselves and the monarchists hate the other two classes as people naturally hate those who robbed them of all they possessed.

Mr. Kerensky and his followers may be right. The monarchists may be right. We can not concede that the communists may be right. But no matter who may be in the right, why must the right and wrong of the situation be threshed out over here? Haven't we enough controversies of our own going full-blown most of the time without having those of distant lands unloaded upon us? There may be no scenes of disorder beyond those marking Mr. Kerensky's appearance Sunday afternoon, but even at that, even though we escape violent demonstrations as a result of his coming, why chance these alien controversies over here?

Vagrant Verse.

BIRD OF THE SOUTH

Oh bird, that out of the South hath flown With wings fresh dipped to the sun's zone, Before from the ground hath ventur'd yet.

And while undressed is still the tree Whereto the linoperd rest to be.

What bird to the sunless whispered low?

"Make ready, tear not; it is time to go?" Some promise, some sweet assuming word We could not hear they must have heard.

That gave to thy wings their willing bise Over long, long paths, hurried, uncared.

Art thou mere atom with feathered brest,

Of greater than human faith possessed,

That summured when leaves summer heat

For the risks of southern blast and sleet?

Or bird of the South, with the wish I hear,

The song of my throat so sweet, so clear,

I pray when the mission to me is being to

It is time to go, make ready, for it is not?

I too, may set to my way, to go

Over the long, long path, hurried, uncared,

Yet, ever though this valley of death,

With the song that never can be stilled,

Because the voice of man here doth we

With living to make account,

HELEN MARIA!

Rubbing Won't Cure Rheumatism.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In the advertising columns of a newspaper I saw a very interesting and a strikingly true statement. This is not unusual, of course. The modern writer of advertising is a genius, and, what is more important, he is not on truth statement. More and more we trust to advertising claims as having substantial foundation of fact.

To return to the particular "ad" I have in mind.

It said this:

"Rheumatism can't be rubbed away."

This is in fact. Massage and gentle rubbing may relieve the discomfort considerably, but they won't cure the rheumatism. It just can't be rubbed away.

All our old-time ideas about rheumatism must be revised. "Taking cold" used to be the favorite excuse for an attack of rheumatism. "Exposure to a draft," "getting wet feet," and other causes were put toward account for the symptoms.

According to the popular idea, rheumatism is a local disease, situated in the joint or muscle where the pain is. This is not the accepted view today.

Of course, nobody can deny that a joint can become terribly inflamed and painful. If you ever had a sore joint of this type you can testify to how you suffered.

But the fact is, you are not free from trouble when the painful muscle or joint "gets well." Since the local trouble is only a symptom of something else, you must find what and where that something else is in order to be at the real seat of the ailment.

According to the popular idea, rheumatism is a local disease, situated in the joint or muscle where the pain is. This is not the accepted view today.

Repeated attacks of what is commonly known as rheumatism are the result of infection somewhere in the body. The real center of the trouble may be in the head when the painful joints are in the toes. In short the location of the pain is no index to the location of the cause of the symptoms.

Repeated attacks of "rheumatism," "neuritis," or "neuritis," should cause you to find out what is wrong. You should out to find where the infection is.

I do not undertake to say doctors have not been over enthusiastic about the effects of diseased teeth upon the general health. But, granting that in hundreds of instances the bad teeth have had nothing to do with the sore muscles or joints, there are many individuals in every community who have been relieved and even "cured" by getting rid of possum gums and abscessed teeth.

Disengaged tonsils, fermenting intestinal tract, indigestion, and, indeed, any physical condition of a similar nature may be the real cause of the rheumatism. Needless to say you can't rub away rheumatism having such an origin.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

A. Y. Q.—I am troubled with rheumatism in the joint of the first finger on each hand. The joints are swollen and painful. My knees are also troublesome. What would you advise? Is there a special diet for this condition?

A.—The treatment for rheumatism depends upon the cause in each case. Massage and heat application usually give temporary relief until further treatment can be advised. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

W. P. T. Q.—Every time I take a cold there is a swelling or puffiness which appears under the left eye. What would you advise?

A.—May be due to infection from a catarrhal condition. Have your name and nasal sinuses examined.—Columbus Transcript.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Questions unanswered by mechanical means to support respiration.

Q. What dog was the first kind domesticated?

A. Shepherd or sheep dogs are regarded as the most ancient breed of domestic dogs and have existed since prehistoric times. Darwin states that all of our domestic dogs have descended from a few wild forms; namely, wolves, jackals and possibly dingoes.

Q. Does Germany make the payments under the law in gold or commodities? H. S. K.

A. Nearly fifty per cent. of the reparations payment from Germany has consisted of commodities to the different creditor nations: such as coal and coke, dyes, starch, chemical fertilizers, timber, agricultural products, sugar, farm machinery, cosmetics, etc.

ONE of the most delightful social events of the club year was the past day's luncheon and patroness party at which members of the Current Topic Club were the hostesses, yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Whysell. Invitations were sent to the members of the club, and the rooms were attractively decorated with spring flowers and a color note of yellow and white arranged a lovely color scheme for the tea which followed the program hour. Presiding at the tea table, which was covered with a basket of tulips were Mrs. Dewey Head, Mrs. George Whysell, and Mrs. Charles Turner. Arrangements were in charge of members of the social committee of which Mrs. J. E. Taylor is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Whysell, Mrs. Sykes, Mrs. L. F. Conner and Mrs. H. Harvey.

Mrs. Harry T. Williams and Miss Mary Evangeline Lawrence opened the program with two piano numbers, "Valley" and "Mandolin Slav." Tschakowski, and Mrs. Lewis Uhl, president of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs gave a talk on the plans for the state convention to be held here in May. Mrs. Karl W. Schell entertained with a group of vocal numbers, "The Top of the Morning" Maia Zurek, "There Are Fairies at the Bottom of the Garden" Lila Lehman, and "Singing Thru" Arthur Pence. Her accompaniments were played by Mrs. Harry T. Williams. Mrs. Dewey Head gave an interesting talk on "Women in Poetry," after which Mrs. Clarence L. Rutherford sang "I Love Thee," "Grieg" and "Mr. Robin." Glen, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Evangeline Lawrence.

Patronesses entertained Mrs. E. Bush, Mrs. Edson Campbell, Mrs. Leroy Owens, Mrs. Joseph Mason, Mrs. D. D. Young, Mrs. Fred Koch, Mrs. Frank Knapp and Mrs. Charles Whysell. Guests aside from the patronesses were Mrs. W. C. Beatty, Mrs. J. E. Waddell, Mrs. William Hervey, Mrs. T. E. Sonnenstine, Mrs. J. C. Ackerman, Mrs. George Barnes, Mrs. W. S. Harvey, Mrs. A. G. REPORT BROWNING WON SUIT AROUSES JUDGE

New York Newspaper De-
Counter Suit

White Plains, N. Y., Mar. 15.—Published reports that the separation of "Peaches" and "Daddy" Browning had resulted in a decision in favor of the elderly real estate man, annoyed
the Supreme Court Justice Albert H.
F. Seeger here today.

Justice Seeger, who presided at the trial and in whose hands the case rests, arrived here this morning from his home in Newburgh to provide at the regular term of court. He cloistered himself in his chambers, and declined to see newspapermen, threatening to "pitch them through the window" any reporter who attempted to question him.

SAYS "DADDY" IS VICTOR IN SUIT

New York, Mar. 15.—The New York American in an uncopyrighted article today stated that Edward W. "Daddy" Browning has won the separation suit
he brought against his wife, the former "Peaches" Heenan.

"Peaches" has lost her counter suit against "Daddy," and with it any chance of getting alimony, according to the American.

In denying "Peaches" a separation,
it is understood, the newspaper said that Justice A. H. Seeger found her charges of alleged cruelty trivial and in some instances found it difficult to credit her testimony.

CITY ENGINEER CATCHES GIVES SEWER REPORT

Remarkably Complete and Detailed Outline Is Presented to
City Council

A remarkably complete and detailed report on Marion's sewer system, compiled by City Engineer T. S. Catherton, was submitted to City Council at its meeting last night.

The report gives a comprehensive history of both the sanitary and storm water systems since the first lines were laid in 1891 up to the present time. It traces the routes of all the main lines and includes a description of the new-age treatment works.

Mr. Catheron shows how city officials during past years greatly underestimated the prospects of Marion's growth
by failing to provide sewer facilities of adequate proportions.
